"a single author of great genius like Nathaniel Hawthorne or Ralph Waldo Emerson." This is quoted in a way to lead unthinking people to suppose that America is producing no eminent writers. But on cleed aspection, it is found that the statement is limited to authors "like" Hawthorpe and Emerson. Even with this limitation it is not unlikely the statement is too broad, for here in the single city of Philadelpha there has been produced at least-one author in works of the imarination whose books been produced at least-one author in works of the imagination whose books willing as long as Hawthorne's. This is decree H. Boker. And in works of a different but more scholarly character the writings of Henry Charles Les, based upon the pair of oligity at any wife Hawthorne's are forgotten.—Philadelphia Ledger. adelphia Ledger.

How to Bind Mag How to Bind Magnation.
One good way to bind a file of magna-since cheaply is to paned t aree holes near the back of each magnatine, and pass strong cord through the holes, tio-ing tightly with the regular bindey's knot. "The edges may be trimmed under a printer's paper catter, or even with a discry bride. Of course, a bookhader can do a botter job. Some people, by the way, do not know that a bookhader will bind a volume of marrain as strongwill bind a volume of magnings eirong-yill bind a volume of magnings eirong-ly and neatly in "library about" for treatly-five cents. The Correct Use of Militon.

"The word "million" signifies either a thousand thousands, or in indefinitely legs arombes, as the case may be for a range, yet with my first unification, yet had not be formed to be million, and not find high the complete of the first case "million," and not find high the million of the company of the first case and not find high the company.

The correct Use of Militon.

Interesting There, Albert Marin President Secretary, as the secretary for the Dinni is a few least a leastly, as a secretary, as history, as the secretary and as injectable maps were invented and manufactured for the use of the system. They are all of the kind known as the "dissected maps," and are of wood—are really carved blocks. All land stants in relief, the mountains are invalues, the fiven are long depression, the state has a clevared, Each state is a separate block, and the pupil is taught to it the blocks together and than prepare for birneals a map of each state is a separate break a map of the whole country.

The name of each right is marked, sometimes on the back, sometimes on the back, sometimes on the trust, of the block, and the observer will notice all over the surface of the blocks small appropriation of what is him are meaninging dots. There are the name of direct forms and of the Cities. him are mosk-ingless dofn. These are the names of rivers, towns and office. Cities are designated by pin or tack heads, and the size and shape of these show the ap-proximate a unaber of population. It, one map cities of less than 10,000 tabl-liants were indicated by pin heads fish on top, and those of 10,000 be 20,000 by hemispherical. First teck heads showed the .conliture of cities having 20,000 to 50,000, rounded teck heads from 57,000 to 100,000. "Bounding" the states is an easy mat-ter to the pupil. Taking Missouri, for example, the child requested to do the work began by placing the hand flet on the block to get a general idea of its po-sition; then the foredager of the right hand found the northwest diffuer, ran hapidly along the elevated fown line, fol-lowed the Mississippi down to Kanses, went too far and passed to Helena, what a paper was made, the name read and the mistate discovered; returned, found the line, traced it to the west along the the mistate discovered; retrieved, found the lind, traced it to the west along the nonthern limits of Penniscot and Dunzim counties, injured it again at the St. Francis river, returned by west north, found the line at Butter country, ran it to the corner of McDanald country, theoret along the western boundary to the starting point and then gave the whole re-sult orally without a moment's hegita-

"Out of the Peace."

We drew the post up on the sandy store and then walked across the posinuols, which was here about a quarter of a mile wide, to view the tremendom ear rolling in. There was a northeaster blowing, and the ocean as far out so one could see was boiling and forming. The tide was on the flood, and as we steed there looking into the racing surf, with tide was on the flood, and as we steed there looking into the raging surf, with the gale almost flinging un down at times, a dark object appeared in the midst of the feam. It was whirled and topps and buffeled for three or four minutes, and their a great wave brought is to and flung it upon the wet sands at our feet.
